The North East Local Health Integration Network (NE LHIN) is responsible for planning, funding and integrating health services across Northeastern Ontario.

Building on the strengths of local health organizations and consumers, the NE LHIN works to bring people together to discuss common health care issues.

The NE LHIN coordinates services between more than 200 health care service providers, including the North East Community Care Access Centre, community health centres, community mental health and addiction services, community support services, hospitals and long-term care homes.

Alternate Level of Care (ALC) issues are a priority for the NE LHIN. CEO Round Tables and ALC Task Forces have been created across the region to facilitate the ability for health service providers, communities, and individuals to work together to adopt a system-wide approach for improving the complex ALC issue in Northeastern Ontario.
